

ALLIED POWERS' CONFERENCE DECIDES TO CONTINUE THE WAR UNTIL GERMANY IS CONQUERED

Decision Is Unanimous and Allegiance to Cause Stronger Than Ever.

CALL RUSSIAN CONFERENCE

Premier Kerensky Decides to Submit Fate of Empire to Council of Many Prominent Men of All Classes Summoned From All Parts of Land.

By Associated Press.

PALESTINE, July 27.—The Allied powers yesterday concluded their conference after announcing a decision to continue the war until the object for which they are fighting is attained. Their declaration which was made unanimously before separating reads:

The Allied powers more closely united than ever for the defense of the people's rights, particularly in the Balkan peninsula are resolved not to lay down arms until they have attained the end which in their eyes dominates all others—to render impossible a return of the criminal aggression such as that whereof the Central Empires bear the responsibility.

There was unanimous agreement on all decisions reached during the meeting.

DISCHARGES AND CHECKS FOR 14 FORMER CO. D. BOYS

The official discharges of the 14 men who failed to pass the physical test given Company D last week have been received by Captain R. S. Morton, along with the checks for the discharged men. The prompt receipt of these documents indicates that the record made by Company D in mustering has stimulated headquarters to quicker action than usual.

The checks of the men range from $4.45 to $7.85. The men were paid from the time they reported at the armory until they were discharged by the examining officers. The amount received $7.85 and the private who reported on Saturday got $6.65.

The program of the daily routine of the company and hospital corps was changed a little this morning when the soldiers picked out Trotter road to Giddings' farm and back again. No arms were carried and the morning's work was much easier on the boys than the last two days, when drills were held under the hot sun.

Two members of the company have been poisoned arms, having come in contact with poison ivy while swimming at the beach. The entire company took to the water yesterday afternoon, after the soldiers had disposed of 40 watermelons donated by S. N. Osburn and Tomkins Brothers, produce dealers.

The company was invited to attend the baseball game at Fayette Field this afternoon to be played between the Pittsburg Collegians and the Baltimore & Ohio team.

EXTRAORDINARY COUNCIL TO DISCUSS RUSSIA'S FATE

PETROGRAD, July 27.—The gravity of the Russian position in the front and rear impels Premier Kerensky to take the exceptional decision without waiting for the constituent assembly to convene July 31 at Moscow, the "extraordinary national council."

All members of the Duma, prominent men from chief centers of the empire representatives of the Venetian municipality, labor unions and universities will participate.

The council will hold two sessions, at which the government will be asked to make an exhaustive report on the condition of the country, answer questions and ask opinions of authoritative persons on how best to save the Fatherland from ruin.

RUSS SITUATION BETTER; GOVERNMENT STRENGTHENED

Despite all unfavorable news that continues to come from the Russian war theatre, there are occasionally improvements in the situation. Last evening Petrograd newspapers, for instance, found cause to report a somewhat better situation at the front, probably as the result of the drastic measures to restore discipline which the government has authorized in the re-establishment of field court martial and the reimposition of the death penalty.

Similar stringent measures in Petrograd also appear to have proven effective in dealing with disorderly elements. Reports of the new fighting in the capital are accompanied by the statement that government troops stepped into the situation with salutary effects, suppressing rioting.

Meanwhile the Entente front elsewhere is giving renewed evidence of its solidity, not only in a military but a political way.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The Russian military reverses have enormously strengthened the hands of the government in Petrograd, according to a dispatch from Ambassador Francis today to the State Department. They have shown the impossibility of control of the army by soldiers' committees, the ambassador reports, and have led to a universal demand for discipline.

military crisis at the front has caused the deepest alarm in Petrograd not only as to military disaster but to the achievement of the revolution itself. All parties are united, he said, in urging the government to use any measures necessary to meet the situation.

Dispatches to the Russian embassy confirm this point of view and show that many conservative leaders who have recently gone out of office are now again coming to the front of affairs. This is attributed to the forecast of more representative and better experienced government.

AUSTRIAN RULER NEAR DEATH FROM RUSS SHOTS

AMSTERDAM, July 27.—Emperor Charles of Austria had a narrow escape last week while visiting the battle front in Galicia, says the Wiener Allgemeine Zeitung. While the emperor was taking luncheon at a castle near the battle line, Russian artillery shelled the dwelling. He at first refused to take shelter and went on the balcony, but at the protestation of his staff he was induced to leave.

THROWN THROUGH TOP OF AUTO, AGED WOMEN ESCAPE WITHOUT HURT

Mrs. R. C. Harman, 37, and Mrs. Mary Dunn, 75, Have Thrilling Experience.

Though thrown through the top of an automobile when it overturned near Flatwoods about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, two aged women, Mrs. R. C. Harman, 37, of Fayette City, and Mrs. Mary Dunn, 75, of Pittsburg, escaped practically unharmed and without serious injury.

The accident occurred on the road between the townships of Franklin and Fayette. Mrs. Harman's car, a Ford sedan, was traveling south when it was struck from behind by a truck. The car was thrown into the air and landed on its side.

Mrs. Harman was clear through the top of the car, which was a Ford sedan, and was picked up some distance away. So far as known she suffered only from shock, sustaining hardly a scratch of the face or body. She and her daughter, Miss Lucy, were taken through their home in Frank Township to the accident. The remainder of the party in the car returned to the Dunn farm.

RAPS UNPREPAREDNESS

Roosevelt Declares Nation Is Totally Unfit for War.

This nation was characterized as unfit at present for effective service in the great war against Germany and her allies, by Colonel Theodore Roosevelt in an address at a great public mass meeting in connection with the international convention of Moscow at Pittsburg last evening. The ex-President spoke to a crowd of at least 35,000, among them many Connellsville residents.

Colonel Roosevelt's address was the fourth of a series in the program of speaking and entertainment inaugurated soon after his arrival at 8 o'clock A. M. He received a tremendous ovation at every appearance.

The parade which was a big feature of the convention was practically broken up when word went down the line that a non-union band was in line. As this word was received union bands, including the Connellsville Military band, which headed the Connellsville delegation, left the line, and no such confusion resulted. It was impossible to finish the parade. Only about five bands remained in the line. There were originally about 15,000 men in line. Uniontown, Brownsville and Connellsville represented Fayette county.

THREE SOLDIERS DIE

Perish When Lightning Strikes Guard Tent Near St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, July 27.—Three members of the First Regiment, Missouri National Guard were killed and a dozen others were injured when lightning struck Camp Maxwell, St. Louis county, early today.

The soldiers were asleep in the guard tent at the main entrance to the camp when the storm broke. The tent collapsed and the injured and dead were carried to the hospital tent where efforts were made to revive them. Many other tents were set adrift by lightning but the occupants escaped serious injury. The work of rescue was hindered by numerous electric wires which were blown down. The fires were extinguished quickly and the damage is not thought to be heavy.

MAJOR R. S. MCKEE CAUGHT BY CAMERA PREPARING FOR WAR

Camoraman C. H. Baisley "snuck up" upon Major R. S. McKee, commander of the crack Tenth Regiment Hospital corps, while he wasn't looking and "shot" him, as they say in the motion picture circles. The result is shown above.

Major McKee is seen compiling records of physical examinations at his desk in the armory. The photograph is a remarkable one, considering the poor light and the windows facing the camera.

The hospital corps has attained a high point in efficiency under Major McKee's command and as it files down street on its hikes during the morning it attracts much favorable attention.

"DIPS" ARE ACTIVE

Several Persons Robbed on Carnival Grounds Last Night.

Pickpockets were active on the West Side last evening, four persons who were robbed reporting their losses to Patrolman Aaron Coughenour. One man said $50 was taken from his pocket and another reported a loss of $17. Clyde Dettler, of the West Side, lost $14 taken from his pockets. Another, who did not give any name lost 55 cents.

Three negroes arrested as suspicious characters were all sentenced by Mayor Marietta to street work this morning. No money was found on any of them but their suspicious actions on the carnival grounds caused their arrest. One, who gave his name as Sam Cleveland, had a heavy knife, shaped like a vine pruner, and a "billy." Two other negroes who gave their names as Fred Smith and John Williams, were also arrested.

Patrolman Coughenour has had his hands full on the carnival grounds for the week. Tuesday night he closed and confiscated the proprietor of a place which is alleged to have swindled a foreigner out of $5. Byrlanders saw through the fakir's game and one up his ruck, exposing it. Coughenour had the money returned to the "victim" and closed the stand.

Another policeman will be put on duty tonight and tomorrow at the grounds.

GIRL IN CUSTODY

Seventeen Year Old Lisbonburg Maid Held by Police.

The police are holding Mabel Hullet, a 17 year old girl who gave her home as Lisbonburg, Somerset county, until they hear from her uncle, her guardian, who has been notified that she is being held here. The girl says she left her home after a quarrel but is willing to return now to stay for good. Mabel did not seem to mind being locked up and spoke freely to the reporters. She said that when she came here she got work in a restaurant but quit because they got too "smart." She was arrested by the police last night in company with three men on a charge of disorderly conduct. Her three companions gave a gold watch as a forfeit. She was sentenced to 48 hours by Mayor Marietta.

LABOR CELEBRATION

Plans For Big Day in Uniontown Now Being Shaped Up.

Active steps toward shaping up the program for the tri-county Labor Day celebration to be held in Uniontown have now been taken, and while the plans are still in a tentative state there are general indications that Fayette county will see the greatest Labor demonstration in its history. In a general way, the demonstration will consist of a monster parade to be followed by speechmaking on the court house lawn. Hundreds of local unions in Fayette, Washington and Westmoreland county will participate.

Connellsville will send a big delegation. Elmer L. McNutt of the Connellsville Central Trades and Labor Council is boosting the thing here and in Scottsdale and Mount Pleasant.

Leonard May Rave.

Motorists will rejoice to learn that Ligonier is again at work on a proposition to pave its main street. An effort is being made by the citizens to secure aid from the county and state in the improvement, which will cost $25,000.

Gives Grandson's Ponies. Mayor R. Marietta has presented ponies bought from the Coop & Lent circus to two grandsons, "an Marietta, son of George Marietta of Connellsville; and R. M. Marietta, son of C. E. Marietta of Ligonier.

GARDENS AT FRICK PLANTS BEST EVER, THE JUDGES STATE

Big Crops Large Factor In Bringing Down Prices of Various Foodstuffs.

TROTTER'S GOOD SHOWING

Judges Place Value of $35.30 on Each Individual Crop or a Total of $5,950.
90 For all 153 of Them; Junata and Youngstown Also Break Records.

The gardens at the Frick place this year are, without a doubt, the best in history. With the great drive for increased production of foodstuffs on, greater areas are being cultivated and more attention given to the scientific arrangement of the plots. Valuation in many instances is more than twice that of former years.

Last spring the H. C. Frick Coke company made available to employees for gardening purposes vacant land adjoining its plants, the company plowing and fertilizing the land. As a result scores of acres never before cultivated have been planted. These extra gardens are not eligible for prizes.

Awards are harder to make this year than ever before. Each family takes pride in its "war garden" and works hard to make the little plot of ground produce more than it ever has before.

Judges inspecting Frick gardens yesterday—Rev. C. C. Buckner, Rev. J. L. Proudfoot and March Sloan, all of Connellsville—found several that can not be beaten anywhere. There was such pride evidenced by the families in the results of their efforts that one of the judges was led to remark that he thought a certain woman had every beanstalk named.

Gardening at Trotter has been extended beyond the back lots, however, a field of eight acres, owned by the company and plowed at its expense, having been apportioned out to those who wished to till it. A great part of this is in corn, beans, tomatoes and potatoes. After viewing the big crops of cabbage, the judges came to the conclusion that it was such efforts as these that brought the price of the vegetable from 14 to three cents a pound and are going to make all food prices tumble.

There were 153 gardens at Trotter and the average value placed on them was $38.30, not including the crops in the eight acre field. This would make the total produce raised worth $5,950.90. Prizes were awarded as follows:

Gardens—First prize, Mrs. Joseph Manosky, House No. 26; second prize, Charles Demosky, House No. 26; third prize, Mrs. Adam Tikey, House No. 52.

CHANCE TO SECURE FINE PONY; ALL YOU MUST DO IS RIDE IT

Grant Dull's Circus Ponies Offered to Valiant Boys Who "Break"

A nice big, strong, fast bronco awaits any youth of Connellsville who has the nerve and ability to sit on its back and successfully "break" it. According to an offer made by Grant Dull, who purchased six of the animals from the Coop & Lent circus which stranded here.

One horse has already been won in this way by Len Farber, of the Fayette Produce company, who rode it last evening. Farber, who is a good horseman, picked out his steed and held it bridled. He rode it without a saddle. The breaking in process took place on Peach street. Spectators, numbering between 75 and 100 who witnessed the contest between Farber and the horse, saw the best bronco busting exhibition ever staged here without paying the price of an admission to a circus. All the horses are wild, never having been ridden.

When Farber mounted nothing happened for a second, and then things went off with a flash. The horse went straight up Peach street as far as Prospect at a gallop and stopped short. Farber didn't come off so the "bronco" raced towards Pittsburg street again. Opposite the Fayette Produce company the animal lay down and at one time reared till it fell over backwards. The rider always came up on top, however.

After this rolling and running had continued for a time, the horse gave in and permitted Farber to ride without any trouble.

Mr. Dull's offer of a horse to anyone able to ride it is open to anyone. He still has five of the animals and all are wild.

HOUSE TO HOUSE CANVASS TO FURTHER FOOD SAVING PLAN

A campaign for the conservation of food in Connellsville was launched at a meeting of representative women of the city last night in the Federal building.

The meeting was called by Mrs. Don D. Brooks and out of 70 women invited, 42 turned out.

Mrs. Brooks presided and E. T. Norton, a member of the State Public Safety committee, and vice president of the Fayette County division, addressed the women, impressing upon them the importance of economy in food, giving a number of interesting statistics.

Mr. Norton stated that if every housewife would save four ounces of bread a day, it would provide bread for 6,000,000 soldiers a day. In order to carry out the campaign, which will begin next Wednesday, the city was divided into eight districts, and women will make a house to house canvass, presenting every housewife and any other member of the family over 15 years old with a pledge card which will be asked to sign. These cards are sent out by the government and read as follows:

MASTER LISTS NOT HERE YET; WORK OF BOARDS IS HELD UP

Official Lists Go to Harrisburg
First, Which Accounts
For Delay.

A CHANCE FOR SLACKERS

Still awaiting the arrival of the master lists, the registration boards of Districts 2 and 5 are idle, with no possibility of getting ahead with their work. The unusual delay expected in the matter of the master list is holding back the boards to the greatest degree, and there is no chance of the local men keeping up with the other officials of the country in bringing their work to a successful conclusion until the official list arrives.

The master list mailed to The Courier came through yesterday. It was mailed direct to the paper, while the lists for the exemption boards were mailed to Harrisburg, reaching there last night, and being re-directed. Fred D. Munson, still serving on the Second district board, got in touch with Sheriff T. L. Howard, of the First district board, this morning, and learned that none of the county boards had received lists.

Absolutely nothing official has been received here lately. Mr. Munson and Dr. D. D. Brooks are still serving, waiting for the appointment of successors not of registration age, but there has been no work for them to do the last few days.

The indications are that the lists will be received here either in the last mail this afternoon or tomorrow morning, since they were certainly mailed from Harrisburg for examination. Notices summoning men for examination can not be sent out before tomorrow, and five days must then elapse before actual examination begins.

Drafted men who have married or who shall marry before they are called for examination will not have to serve in the national army if their wives are dependent upon them according to the exemption plan placed on a letter from Provost Marshal General Elmer Crowder, received in Trenton, N. J., in reply to inquiries.

It had been thought, previously, that registered young men who married after June 5 would not be exempted from service, their marriages being regarded as attempts to evade the selective service act. General Crowder's letter, which seems to show that such is not the case, says:

"In reference to marriage after June 5, 1917, it would seem in like manner that the claim of discharge because of dependency should be determined at the date of calling. If the person called is then a married man and has a wife at that time depending upon his labor in the sense in which that term is used in the rules and regulations, it would seem that he could be discharged from the service, if in the opinion of the board the claim is substantiated."

4 OUT OF 5 EXEMPTED FROM DRAFT IN ONE WARD

PITTSBURG, July 27.—Examinations of the first quota under the draft being held in the 23rd Ward of Pittsburg are showing that nearly four out of every five examined are physically disqualified. It was announced today. The examinations were begun Wednesday, although master list numbers have not been received. It is said that out of 56 examined Wednesday, 35 will be exempted. Out of 32 examined yesterday, 22 may be exempted.

MOBILE, Ala., July 27.—Examination of the first quota summoned under the draft has shown that the ratio of those disqualified physically in this city will be less than one-fourth.

WASHINGTON YOUTH IS FIRST TO BE DRAFTED

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Harry Chapman, Gilbert, 21, son of a White House guard, is the first man to be accepted for service in the new national army. He passed the physical examination today and waived all claims for exemption.

New Car Fine Looking.

Meyer Aaron is driving a new Marmon that is generally declared to be one of the prettiest automobiles that ever came to the city.

out by the government and read as follows: "I am glad to join you in the service of food conservation for our nation and I hereby accept membership in the United States Food Administration, pledging myself to carry out the directions and advice of the food administration in conducting my household, insofar as my circumstances permit."

The chairman of the different districts appointed are as follows: First, Mrs. S. R. Goldsmith; second, Miss Katherine Friebe; third, Mrs. A. E. Vannatta; fourth, Mrs. J. W. Buttermore; fifth, Mrs. P. R. Welmer; sixth, Mrs. J. Raymond Mettze; seventh, Miss Sarah Gallagher; eighth, Mrs. Ralph K. Long. About eight women in every district have pledged their support in the campaign to Mrs. Brooks. Each chairman will appoint as many other women as they deem necessary to assist in conducting the campaign.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR PRESENTATION OF COMPANY FUND

Big Parade to Precede Ceremony on Steps of Armory
at 8 O'clock Tonight.

FURTHER CONTRIBUTIONS

Total Had Reached $1,736.42 at Noon
Today; Organizations in Parade Promise to Get Out as Big Turnout
as Possible; Form at 7.30 O'clock.

Plans for the parade in honor of Company D and the Tenth Regiment Hospital Corps, and the presentation of the company fund which is to follow at the armory, were completed this morning. Patriotic and civic organizations of all kinds have pledged that they will turn out with large delegations, and prospects for a really big parade are good.

The fund for Company D and the Hospital Corps, which will be presented to Captain R. S. Morton by Captain John L. Gans this evening, at noon today had been increased to $1,736.42. The new subscriptions were: Charles F. Hood, $5.00; D. F. Lepley $1.00, and Cash, $2.00.

The parade will form at 7.30 on North Pittsburg street with the right resting on Fayette street. The route of march will be over Pittsburg street to the armory. The organizations forming the parade, together with citizens gathering to witness the ceremonies, will be massed in front of the armory entrance on Washington avenue. In case of rain the exercises will be held inside the armory. The parade formation will be:

Squad of Police.
Connellsville Military Band.
G. A. R. Veterans.
Spanish-American War Veterans.
City Council.
Company D and Hospital Corps.
Officers of Trades and Labor Council.
West Side Fire Department.
B. & O. Fire Department.
South Connellsville Fire Department.
Citizens.

The ceremony of presentation will take place on the armory steps at 8 o'clock. The Connellsville Military band will play and Lester Crawford will sing "We'll Never Let Our Old Flag Fall," a patriotic selection which was so heartily encored when Mr. Crawford sang it at the recent concert given by the band on the porch of the Elks' home. E. T. Norton will be chairman of the meeting.

Captain Harry Dunn will be marshal of the parade. The veterans of the Civil War will be given the place of honor in the formation. Commander W. P. Clark this morning requested that there be as large a turnout of the comrades of William F. Kurtz post as possible. The Spanish-American war veterans will march just behind the G. A. R. men.

All men who will be called out by the draft as candidates for the national army are asked to meet at the Macedonia building at 7 o'clock. From there they will march to Fayette street and get in the line of the parade. All citizens desiring to march will be given places.

The library grounds will be reserved for ladies and children. This will be the last opportunity to see Company D in parade before the boys leave the city for good.

WRIGHTS VISIT FORT NIAGARA TRAINING CAMP

Mr. and Mrs. W. Wright and son Frank, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wright, and Mrs. C. L. Barlow, the latter of Buckhannon, W. Va., have returned home from an automobile trip to Fort Niagara, New York, where they spent two days with Dana Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wright, who is in the officers' training camp there. Their visit to the camp was a most delightful one.

Clyde "Casey" Jones is developing into a fine marksman, according to reports brought back from the camp. In target practice "Casey" put eight out of 10 shots through the bullseyes at 800 yards.

LOCAL MEN MACHINISTS IN SIGNAL RESERVE CORPS.

Word received from William L. Smith and Hugh Robert King who left Wednesday for Pittsburg states that they have been sent to Columbus, O., to work as machinists in the Signal Reserve Corps.

Both were machinists at the Baltimore & Ohio shops and are well known young men of town.

SERGEANT F. G. COBER IS REJECTED; WEAK HEART CAUSE

Attorney F. G. Cober of Somerset, a sergeant of Company C, has been rejected by the examining surgeon on account of heart weakness, it is said. Some weeks ago Attorney Cober made application for admission to the officers' training camp, but it is likely that his rejection on account of physical disability when examined as a member of Company C will operate against his being accepted.

To Build Church.

A Church of the Brethren congregation recently organized at Bear Run has decided to build a church on a plot to be donated by C. C. Tissue, along the Connellsville-Bear Run road, not far from Whigs Corner. It is said that Mr. Tissue will donate $300 and Mrs. Tissue $100 toward the cost. Seven converts were baptized in the pool of the Bear Run country club last Saturday.

VIVID STORY OF OF A CHILD CRYING IN THE NIGHT

Thankful Mother Tells How Nerv-Orth Banished That
and Other Ills.

Few people realize the extent of the use of this marvelous family tonic for weak, nervous, excitable, restless children. Nerv-Orth, files abound in signed statements to this effect. Nerv-Orth has worked wonders for ailing children of all ages. Let the following tell you what it did in this case, for an infant:

Nerv-Orth Co. Nerv-Orth proved its merits. Our child, Baby William, now four months old, was troubled with nervousness. Cried at night for three months.

We tried small doses of Nerv-Orth AND RESULTS WERE WONDERFUL. Our baby is now bright and cheerful at all times. We cannot say too much for this wonderful medicine.

The foregoing statement was given some time ago to the Nerv-Orth druggist at East Liverpool, Ohio.

The Connelville Drug Co. sells Nerv-Orth in Connelville. Your dollar back if this medicine does not help your child or yourself.

CASES SETTLED

Yonge Robbers Released; To Pay Costs and Reimburse Prosecutors.

Eight youths charged with the theft of automobile parts, with nearly $1,500 worth arranged before Alderman Fred Munk this morning. Informations having been preferred against them by the Conneltsville Market, Charles Burkhardt, H. G. Beatty, and John Dunn. The cases were settled upon payment of costs by the defendants and promises to make good all that they had stolen. The youths against whom the larceny charges were made are: Russell Hall, George Ranker, Clarence Sanner, Louis Ryland, Leo Kist, James Stahl, Richard Portney, and Irvin Brothers. The last four were arrested only yesterday, by City Detective J. W. Mitchell. The others were caught on Sunday and Monday.

Most of the goods stolen has been recovered and automobile parts were being today at Alderman Munk's office identifying their belongings. The prosecutors declared they were quite willing to drop the charges against the boys provided they were reimbursed for their losses.

The mother of Russell Hall declared this morning that it was impossible for the boys to have stolen $1,500 worth of automobile accessories. "I know my boy is guilty of stealing some things," she said, "but there are a lot of thieves working and all their robberies have just been added on to these boys."

The costs in the cases will total more than $102. Four separate informations were made.

With immense quantities of food ordered, and 2,000 men expected to attend, the Elks' outing in Graham's grove next Wednesday promises to be one of the biggest occasions in the history of the local lodge.

Five thousand roasting ears from the New Jersey south shore, 3,000 Delaware crabs, 500 loaves of bread, more than 100 pounds of butter, and 25 bottled hams are some of the things ordered, and they give an idea of the amount of food which the Elks and their friends expect to consume during the day. One of Baltimore's best chefs will come to Conneltsville to take charge of the grub, arriving on Tuesday so as to have everything ready on the big day.

Automobile parties will come from all the Monongahela river towns, and even as far as Wilkensburg. Conneltsville and vicinity will, of course, furnish the bulk of the 2,000 men expected to attend.

MRS. BURNHAM JAMAICA, N. Y.

Sufferings Cured by Medicine Recommended by Sister-in-law.

Jamaica, N. Y.—"I suffered greatly with my head and with backache, was weak, dizzy, nervous, with hot flashes and felt very miserable, as I was irregular for two years. One day when I was feeling unusually bad my sister-in-law came in and said, 'I wish you would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.' So I began taking it and I am now in good health and am cured. I took the Compound three times a day after meals, and on retiring at night. I always keep a bottle in the house."—Mrs. L. N. BURNHAM, 295 South St., Jamaica, N. Y.

Women who recover their health naturally tell others what helped them. Some write and allow their names and photographs to be published with testimonials. Many more tell their friends.

Here is a real song of all the joys of boyhood, a song that takes you back to barefoot days, sung by the fine clear tenor of Sam Ash with a snap and go and a rollicking enjoyment that will have any roomful joining in the chorus. And on the other side is "You Don't Have to Come from Ireland to Be Irish," another song of pure joy and lively fun.

"I Wonder Why"
Columbia Record A2238, 75c
The catchiest, daintiest of musical show hits—the song of "Love o' Mike," sung by Anna Wheaton in such a pretty, appealing way that you won't "wonder why" all Broadway's wild about her! A xylophone furnishes a novel little touch that adds to the charm of this lovely bit of song. On the other side is "Rolled Into One," the star song of the show in which Miss Wheaton is now starring: "Oh, Boy," the big Broadway success.

"Hong Kong"
Columbia Record A2232, 75c
Here's a combination you rarely get—Brice & King, Keith vaudeville favorites, and a lively, lilted Chinese love-song with a teasing melody that has jazz bands playing it and every one humming it, any real place you go in New York. Especially with the fine baritone-tenor duet, "Down at the Huskin' Bee," on the other side.

And if you want to listen to some other great hits, ask your Columbia dealer to play "There Are Two Eyes in Dixie" (A2243, 75c); "If You Ever Get Lonely," sung by Brice & King (A2229, 75c); the tenor duet "Georgia" (A2230, 75c); and "Evening Brings Rest and You" (A2228, 75c).

Be sure you hear these records (with the "music-notes") today—they are sure to be just the records you want!

DRAFTING THE ALIENS.

As the actual summoning of men under the Selective Service Law approaches closer at hand the sentiment favoring the inclusion of aliens among those liable for military service becomes stronger and stronger. Aside from the justice of requiring them to defend the land that feeds and protects them and provides them with opportunities to gain a livelihood and a competence, it is becoming more and more apparent that relying on these from service is going to result in decided unfairness to native-born and naturalized citizens in the industrial districts. The bunting, if not worse, at Washington which based the draft quota upon population, including aliens, instead of upon the military roll of the several districts, will mean that the industrial centers will furnish a much greater proportion of men than sections having a small or no alien population. It is already developing that in some districts it will be impossible to raise the quota out of the men summoned on the first call on account of it being necessary to exempt the aliens which, in certain localities, number over 50 per cent of the whole number to be summoned on the first call.

In view of this condition the demand is becoming urgent that Congress do something in the direction of nationalizing the aliens so that they may be drafted into the National Army. There stands in the way of such a measure a number of treaties with the governments of the alien which will have to be abrogated before their subjects in this country can be required to enter the military service. There is little doubt among the members of Congress but that satisfactory arrangement can be made with these governments touching this matter. It will require considerable time to adjust the details but this can probably be completed before the next draft which is said to be scheduled for October.

"WE ARE NOT AWAKE"

In his address in Pittsburg yesterday Colonel Roosevelt uttered some plain truths concerning the war situation which should cause Americans to more completely arouse themselves to the necessities, not only of the day and the hour, but of the years to come. "We are in the war," said the Colonel, "but we are not yet awake. We are passing through, in exaggerated form, the phase through which England passed during the first year of the war. A very large number of Englishmen fooled themselves with the idea that they lived on an island and were safe anyhow, that the war would pass over them, and that if they went on with their business as usual and waved flags and applauded patriotic speeches, somebody else would do the fighting for them. England has seen the error of her ways; she has paid in blood and agony for her shortsightedness; she is now doing her duty with stern resolution. We are repeating her early errors on a larger scale; and assuredly we shall pay heavily if we do not in time wake from our shortsighted apathy and foolish, self-sufficient optimism. "We live on a continent; we have trusted to that fact for safety in the past; we do not understand that world conditions have changed and that the oceans and even the air have become highways for military aggression. The exploits of the German U-boat off Nantucket last summer showed that if Germany, or any other possible opponent of ours were free to deal with us the security that an ocean barrier once offered was annihilated. In other words, the battle front of Europe is slowly spreading over the whole world. Unless we beat Germany in Europe we shall have to fight her deadly ambition on our own coasts and in our own continent."

We are slowly beginning to understand some of these things but we have not reached the significance of all of them. We will not until we are fully awake to our responsibilities, privileges and duties as loyal, patriotic citizens.

It appears that the first exemptions will be of exemption board members.

Rumor hath it that there are many aspiring to be ex's.

The impossible has happened. A Democrat office-holder has resigned.

"Number, number, what is your number?" is the prevailing, if not popular, game.

Capit is showing no white feather to Mars.

SHOWER THAT COMES UP DURING A MARCH DRENCHES COMPANY E

Guardsmen Have to Change to Woolen Uniforms While Wet Ones are Drying.

PLANS OF EXEMPTION BOARD

Will Likely Sit at Mt. Pleasant Township High School No. One Sunday As Yet to Succeed Dr. Katherman of Whitney Who Resigned His Place.

Special to The Courier. MOUNT PLEASANT, July 27. — Members of Company E, Tenth Regiment, were taking a L. A. yesterday morning, when they ran into a shower at Laurelville. They were unprepared for the weather, and the men had been wearing cotton khaki and it was necessary for them to change to wool for the rest of the day while their uniforms dried out. The men are being shipped into line shape by the long bikes and the hard drills each day. Pouches, an uncommon sight to the residents of the town, were popular here during yesterday afternoon's rain.

No New Guard Member. Walter H. Evans, secretary of the exemption board in District No. 6, stated last evening that a third member had not been appointed as yet to take the place of Dr. Katherman of Whitney, who resigned. The other member of the board is Sam Hucus, a farmer of Unity township. The board will likely sit at the Mount Pleasant township high school. Notices will be sent out to all men who are to appear before the board stating the time and place of the meeting. Each man will have five days after the notice is received to appear for physical examination and to file exemption if he wishes.

New Principal. Charles W. Potter of near Moonburg, Columbia county, has been elected principal of the Mount Pleasant township high school. Mr. Potter has had several years' experience as a principal and supervisor of schools. He is a graduate of Bucknell and has had special training.

Overhauling Sweeper. A man from the Barker Supply company of Pittsburg, is here putting the new street sweeper that was purchased by the council a short time ago in shape.

Visits. Mr. and Mrs. Alex Van Oss are the proud parents of a son born yesterday morning in the Memorial hospital.

Claude Byers of New York City, is visiting here. Miss Shelar Carr has returned from a visit to her sister, Mrs. Ruth Carr, who has served as a probationer in the Cook Hospital Training School for nurses, and has been accepted as a pupil nurse.

A. D. Ruchbach, the druggist, has an exhibition in his window pictures of Company E. They are very good.

CONDITIONS IMPROVED

Traffic Situation in Pittsburg District is Approaching Normal.

Traffic conditions in the Pittsburg district have improved appreciably recently, and while there are still far from normal, yet the situation is so much better than it was a month or even a week ago, the railroads are quite optimistic for the first time in two years, says the Pittsburg Dispatch. Some congestion persists at certain points, which, however, is yielding to the heroic treatment applied by the carriers, who now express themselves as confident of their ability to eradicate it entirely soon, should there be no recurrence of the original causes of the trouble.

Notably is this the case at New Castle Junction and Youngstown, where the yards of the Baltimore & Ohio and Erie, respectively, were long spots for the railroads during a long period of time, but both are now fairly over the worst. The yards of the Pennsylvania Company continue to cause more or less trouble, but the clearance of the situation elsewhere is being reflected in improved conditions perceptible in them, while the big Pittsburg yards of the Pennsylvania railroad, the Willow Grove and Thirty-sixth street yards of the Baltimore & Ohio, the Seely and Carnegie yards of the Pennsylvania and the McKees Rocks and other yards of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie are actually clear of obstructions, to all appearances at least. As a consequence deliveries of inbound freight are being effected by all the railroads with reasonable promptness.

Draft Rules and Regulations Made Plain

Physical Examinations of Persons Unable to Report Before Local Boards When Directed.

Any person who when called for service and notified to appear for physical examination is absent from the jurisdiction of the Local Board, and is unable to appear for examination on or before the tenth day after the mailing of the notice to appear, may, on or before the tenth day, file an application, supported by satisfactory proof, for an order directing his physical examination by another board.

If the Local Board is satisfied, from consideration of the application and proof, that because of necessary absence it was impracticable for such person to appear when and as directed, such board may enter an order directing his examination by a board designated in the order. The local board so designated shall thereupon take and have jurisdiction to determine such person's qualifications for military service in the same manner and with the same effect as if such person had been called by such board.

Upon completion of the examination by the designated board, or upon expiration of the period for appearance therefor, the record shall be transmitted to the local board of such person's home district, and upon receipt by the local board thereof the same effect shall be given thereto as if the record had been made by the latter board.

If any person is unable, due to sickness, to report for examination on or before the tenth day after mailing of notice, he shall establish such inability to the satisfaction of the Local Board by affidavits, at least one of which shall be made by a licensed physician. In such case the board may enter an order requiring an examining physician of such board to examine such person, wherever he may be within the jurisdiction of the board, and also to order a re-examination by another examining physician.

In case any person notified to report for examination does not appear on the day set; or does not, if prevented by sickness or necessary absence from appearing on or before the tenth day after mailing of notice; or does not file an application as prescribed for examination in another district, such person shall be recorded by the Local Board of his district as physically qualified for military service. However, if any person so recorded shall show to the satisfaction of the Local Board that, due to necessary absence or to sickness, he was not only unable to appear for examination but was also unable to file an application for examination elsewhere, such board, in its discretion, may order him to be examined in the manner prescribed.

If any person so recorded reports to the Local Board at a date subsequent to the tenth day after mailing of notice the board may, in its discretion, cause him to be examined. In such cases the examination and the conclusions based thereon shall have the same force and effect as if the person had reported and been examined within the time prescribed in his notice to appear.

MORAN FINALLY SIGNS SCHULTE

Took Seven Years to Get Him
in Philadelphia.

OUTFIELDER IS THIRTY-FIVE

Still Fast and Can Hit the Ball—Should Thrive on Philadelphia Team, Having Hit More Home Runs Over Right Field
Fence Than Any Other Visiting Player.

It took the Philadelphia Nationals exactly seven years to acquire the services of Frank Schulte, one of the best outfielders that ever annoyed an opposing pitcher.

It's going back a few seasons, but it's interesting. The first move to bring "Wildfire" to Philadelphia was made at the close of the season of 1910 by Helen Fogel, who was then president of the club.

Relations between the Philadelphia and Chicago clubs at the time were peculiarly pleasant. They worked together like yolk and the white of one of those famous eggs from Hopewell township, York county, Pa. Fogel rightfully reasoned that a fence demolisher like Schulte would make a pennant winner out of his already powerful band of Phils.

He conferred with Manager Doolin, who agreed with him, and the pair decided that they could afford to go a long way to get Schulte in the cleanup position of the local lineup.

So they decided on a deal which involved Earl Moore, then a formidable pitcher, and several others and communicated their offer to Charles Webb Murphy.

The latter took a split second to make up his mind. He sent a telegram to Fogel, which read something like this:
"If I trade for Schulte to Philadelphia
Chicago fans would tar and feather me
and run me out of town on a rail."

Fogel saw it was a hopeless task to sound out Murphy any further and abandoned the hunt for Schulte.

After the close of the season of 1914, or four years later, Pat Moran was made directing boss of the Phils under a different ownership. Yet the 1915 season of Baker and Moran had the same thought as the Fogel-Doolin regime of 1910.

One of Pat Moran's first moves was to try to get Schulte. Roger Brannan, manager of the Cubs, blocked every move to close the deal.

Last season there was a new owner and a new manager at Chicago, and again Moran opened negotiations for "Wildfire." The Chicago club virtually decided that the Phils would get first refusal on Schulte in case he was put on the market.

One day last summer Moran opened the sport page of a newspaper and was dazed to read where Schulte had been traded by Chicago to Pittsburgh in a deal involving Catcher Fletcher and Catcher Wilson. The Cubs took Wilson for Fischer and Schulte.

Schulte had slipped through his hands. This made Moran angry, but he never gave up the hunt. Last winter Pat Moran approached Jim Callahan and asked if he would consider a trade for Schulte. "You can have him for George Whitted," was Callahan's reply. Moran's face wore a pained expression as he read.

Moran was rebuffed again, but he never lost heart. Finally the radio brought to the Phil club requests for waivers on Schulte. He was the chance at last. Moran immediately claimed Schulte and obtained him for the waiver price of $1,500. Seven years ago Moran's goal would gladly have paid ten times that sum for the brilliant right fielder.

Schulte will be thirty-five years old next September, but he is not through by any means. He is still fast and can hit the ball. He is a long right field batter and should thrive on the Phils' grounds.
He has probably hit more home runs over the right field fence than any other visiting player.

He is younger than both Fehrer and Cavath, both of whom are still able to play topnotch ball. Schulte will fit in well as a pinch hitter and also will see some regular service.

He started with Chicago in 1904, so this is his fourteenth season in the big league. Schulte never had high batting averages in this period. His speed was between .250 and .300, but they represented many extra base cleanup knocks.

In a pinch Schulte was always the most dangerous batsman on the Cub team. His highest average with the Cubs was in 1911, when he batted .301.
The year following he batted .300. In 127 games last season with Chicago and Pittsburgh Schulte came back as a batsman, having the fine percentage of .278.

SOCCER PROFITS LARGE.

War Charities Benefit From Games
in Scottish League.

The first Scottish league soccer game to issue reports on last season's working show surprising results. Glasgow's Celtic, who won the championship of the Scottish league for the fourth year in succession and also captured the Glasgow Charity cup, made a profit of $9,570 while the Rangers finished up the season with a balance in hand of $12,225. Third Lanark announced a profit of $1,100 and enjoyed the most successful season in the history of the club.

The Glasgow charity cup games, declared last month produced $4,500 for war charities, and since this competition was started charities have received to the extent of $39,575.
Many games played last month by leading Glasgow clubs for the benefit of the various war funds resulted in $25,000 being added.

Team Has Never Won a Game.
An unusual baseball record has been made by the lower high school of Shuro, Mass. Since joining the school boy league several years ago the team has never won a game. The 1917 season closed with the Shuro club's record still intact.

DEATH VALLEY JIM TO JOIN OFFICERS' RESERVE

White Sox Pitcher Plans to Go Into Training Camp Aug. 27.

"Death Valley Jim" Scott, pitcher for the Chicago Americans, has applied for a place in the officers' reserve training camp at Leon Springs, Tex., which opens Aug. 27. It was made known in Chicago, Captain Franklin R. Kenner, recruiting officer for the central department of the army; Charles A. Connelley, president of the Chicago Americans, and B. B. Johnson, president of the American league, endorsed the application.

Scott is playing his ninth year with the Chicago Americans. He came to the club from the Wichita (Kan.) team of the Western league and in thirty-one years old, more than six feet tall and weighs about 185 pounds. This year he has been in fifteen games, winning five and losing four.

Robert A. Gardner, National amateur golf champion in 1915, has applied for a place in the camp. Gardner was

TODAY, more than at any other time, there are unusual opportunities for the conservative investor. On the market are many seasoned, dividend paying issues which are selling at low prices, not because of any decrease in their actual value, but simply because they are suffering from "market neglect." Many people are speculating just now—not investing. Consequently, the investment stocks, not being in demand, drop somewhat in their quoted values. We will give you facts to bear out this theory any time you call.

A Tale of Youth and Summer Time and The Baxter Family Especially William

By BOOTH TARKINGTON

Copyright, 1915, 1916, by Metropolitan Magazine.

And then, as in story and film and farce and the pleasant kinds of drama, her father would say, with steady rallery, "Well, what you two young people get through you'll find me in the library, where I have a pretty good business proposition to lay before you, young man."

And when the white waistcoated, white-stemmed old man had, chuckling, left the room William would slowly lift his arms. But Lola would move back from him a step—only a step—and after laying a finger softly upon her lips to check him, "Wait, sir," she would say, "I have a question to ask you, sir."

"What question, Lola?"

"This question, sir," she would reply: "In all that summer, sir, so long ago, why did you never tell me what you were until I had gone away and it was too late to show you what I felt? Ah, little boy Baxter, I never understood until I looked back upon it all after I had read 'In Dream' on the train that day. Then I knew!"

"And now, Lola?" William would say. "Do you understand me now?"

Shyly she would advance the one short step she had put between them, while he, with lifted, yearning arms, this time destined to no disappointment—

At so vital a moment did Mrs. Baxter knock at his door and consulting—ever since, to minister unto William. He started, placed the sacred box out of sight and spoke gruffly.

"What you want?"

"I'm not coming in, Willie," said his mother. "I just wanted to know—I thought maybe you were looking out of the window and noticed where those children went—Jane and that little girl from across the street—Kirsted, her name must be."

"No, I did not."

"I just wondered," Mrs. Baxter said bluntly. "Genuinely thinks he heard the little Kirsted girl telling Jane she had plenty of money for car fare. He thinks they went somewhere on a street car. I thought maybe you noticed what?"

"I told you I did not."

"All right," she said placidly. "I didn't mean to bother you, dear."

Following this there was a silence, but no sound of receding footsteps indicated Mrs. Baxter's departure from the other side of the closed door.

"Well, what you want?" William shouted.

"Nothing—nothing at all," said the unreasonable voice. "I just thought I'd have lunch a little later than usual, not till half past 1—that is, if—well, I thought probably you meant to go to the station to see Miss Pratt off on the 1 o'clock train."

"How'd you find out she's going at 1 o'clock?"

"Why—why, Jane mentioned it," Mrs. Baxter replied, with obvious bluntness. "Jane said."

She was interrupted by the loud, desperate sound of William's fist smiting his writing table, so sensitive was his condition. "This is just unbearable!" he cried. "Nobody's business is safe from that child!"

"Why, Willie, I don't see how it matters if—"

He uttered a cry. "No! Nothing matters! Nothing matters at all! Do you expect I want that child, with her insults, denouncing when Miss Pratt is or is not going away? Don't you know there are some things that have no business to be talked about by every Tom, Dick and Harry?"

"Yes, dear," she said. "I understand, of course. Jane only told me she met Mr. Parcher on the street, and he mentioned that Miss Pratt was going at 1 o'clock today. That's all!"

"You say you understand," he yelled, shaking his head dourly at the closed door, "and yet, even on such a day as this, you keep talking! Can't you see sometimes there's times when a person can't stand to it?"

"Yes, Willie," Mrs. Baxter interposed hurriedly. "Of course! I'm going now. I have to go hunt up those children, anyway. You try to be happy for lunch at half past 1, and don't worry, dear. You really will be all right."

He went to his mirror and, gazing out, long and piercingly at the William there limned, enacted almost unconsciously a little scene of pining. The look of suffering upon the mirrored face slowly altered. In its place

Mrs. Baxter sighed and went to a window in her own room and looked out.

William was already more than halfway to the next corner, where there was a car line that ran to the station, but the distance was not too great for Mrs. Baxter to comprehend the nature of the symmetrical white parcel now carried in his right hand. Her face became pensive as she gazed after the flying slender figure. There came to her mind the recollection of a seventeen-year-old boy who had brought a box of candy—a small one, like William's—to the station once, long ago, when she had been visiting in another town. For just a moment she thought of that boy she had known so many years ago, and a smile came vaguely upon her lips. She wondered what kind of a woman he had married and how many children he had and whether or he was a widower.

The feeling recollection passed. She turned from the window and shook her head, puzzled.

"Now, where on earth could Jane and that little Kirsted girl have gone?" she murmured.

At the station William, descending from the street car, found that he had six minutes to spare. Reassured of so much by the great clock in the station tower, he entered the building and, with calm and dispassionate steps, crossed the large waiting room. Those calm and dignified steps were taken by feet which little betrayed the tremulousness of the knees above them.

He made sure that the person he sought was not in the waiting room. Therefore he turned to the doors which gave admission to the tracks, but before he went out he paused for an instant of displeasure. The door about a telephone booth, and from inside this booth a little girl of nine or ten was peering curiously out at William. Her eyes just above the lower level of the glass window in the door.

Even a prospect thus curtailed revealed her as a staid and dusty little girl. To William she suggested nothing familiar. As his glance happened to encounter hers the peering grew instantly brighter with excitement. She exposed her whole countenance at the window and impulsively made a face at him.

Three seconds later the dusty faced little girl and her mother were sped silently from William's mind. For as the doors swung together behind him he saw Miss Pratt. "There were no gates nor iron barriers to obscure the view. There was no train shed to darken the air. She was at some distance, perhaps 200 feet, along the tracks, where the sleeping cars of the long train would stop. But there, she stood, unmistakable for no other on this wide earth.

There she stood—a glowing little figure in the hazy September sunlight, her hair an amber mist under the adorable little hat, a small bunch of violets at her waist, a larger bunch of fragrant but less expensive sweet peas in her right hand, half a dozen pink roses in her left, her little dog Flopfit in the crook of one arm and a one pound box of candy in the crook of the other—luculent, radiant, sturdy, she stood.

Near her also stood her young husband and Wallace Banks, Johnnie Watson and Joe Bullitt, three young gentlemen in a condition of solemn testis. Miss Parcher saw William as he emerged from the station building, and she waved her parasol in greeting, attracting the attention of the others to him, so that they all turned and stared.

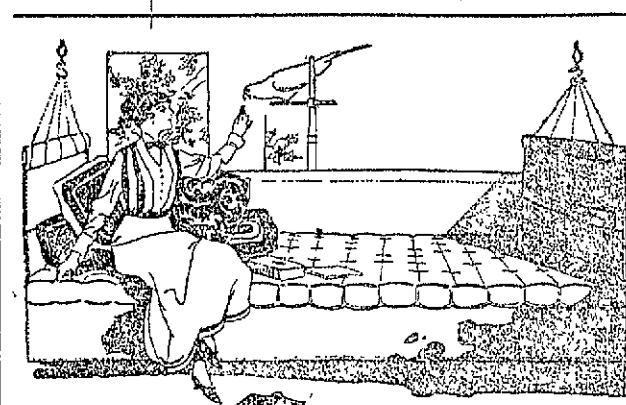

Seventeen sometimes finds it embarrassing, even in a state of deep emotion, to walk 200 feet or thereabout toward a group of people who steadfastly watch the long approach. And when the watching group contains the lady of all the world before whom one wishes to appear most debonair, and contains not only her, but several rivals who, though fairly good hearted, might hardly be trusted to neglect such an opportunity to murmur something facetious about one—No, it cannot be said that William appeared to be wholly without self-consciousness.

In fancy he had prophesied for this moment something utterly different. He had seen himself parting from her, the two alone as within a cloud. He had seen himself gently placing his box of candy in her hands, some of his fingers just touching some of hers and remaining thus lightly in contact to the very last. He had seen himself bending toward the sweet blond head to murmur the few last words of simple eloquence, while her eyes lifted in mysterious appeal to him. And he had put no other dream, not even Miss Parcher's, into this picture.

Parting is the most dramatic moment in young love, and if there is one time when the lover wishes to present a lofty but graceful appearance it is at the last. To leave with the loved one for recollection a final picture of manly dignity in sorrow—that, above all things, is the lover's desire. And yet, even at the beginning of William's 200 foot advance, later so much discussed, he felt the best surge over his ears, as he took off his hat, thinking to wave it jauntily in reply to Miss Parcher, he made but an uncertain gesture of it, so that he wished he had not tried it. Moreover, he had covered less than a third of the distance when he became aware that all of the group

The Looking Glass in Fiction. All nations have shown by their stories how the looking glass is regarded as ministering to vanity. The ancient Greeks depicted Venus with a mirror and even described her chamber as lined all over with mirrors, so that whosoever way her eyes turned she could behold her beautiful self. But Minerva never used a mirror. Pass to West Africa and we find a native story which begins with a magic mirror that possessed the power of speech and always said, "Mistress, there is none," when its owner, a woman called Maria, asked it, "My mirror, is there any other beautiful woman like myself?" But one day Maria's daughter entered the forbidden room where it was kept, asked a similar question and got a similar answer. A tale of maternal jealousy and vengeance follows—London Spectator.

SCOTSDALE, July 27.—Last evening about 5 o'clock, Miss Calvert of Philadelphia, who drove through yesterday to visit Miss Alice Calvert, Misses Georgetown and Elizabeth Wray, and Elizabeth Copley, were in Miss Calvert's automobile going along by the old Valley road. A buggy was taking up the greater part of the road. As the girls tried to pass it, the car skidded, went down a six-foot embankment, turning over six times. Though none suffered any broken bones, all of the girls were badly cut and bruised, and suffering from shock. Mrs. J. P. Strickler and L. T. Gilbert were called and dressed their injuries. Miss Alice Calvert was cut worse than any of the other girls.

Berkley H. Boyd, chairman of the exemption board in District No. 7, stated last evening that the board will sit one day in Scottdale, but that since the master numbers had not come the sitting here would not be before Tuesday and probably not until Thursday. The board does not sit earlier than five days after notices are sent out, nor later than seven days. While every man is supposed to know whether he is to appear for physical examination or not, he will receive a notice by mail. All must appear for physical examination even if they do wish to claim exemption. A claim of exemption must be filed within seven days of date for physical examination. Dr. J. Q. Robinson is secretary of the board and W. B. Howell is clerk. The other member, Mr. Boyd stated last evening that the master numbers are looked for in every mail.

POPULAR MAYOR

PAYS TANLAC A GLOWING TRIBUTE

Chief Magistrate Freeburn
Declares Master Medicine
Is Wonderful.

Mayor T. E. Freeburn, of Northumberland, Pa., joins with other prominent Pennsylvanians, in endorsing Tanlac, the Master Medicine. Northumberland is about two miles from Sunbury, and Mayor Freeburn is one of the most popular and best-liked men the town ever elected to the office of chief magistrate.

"I can gladly recommend Tanlac to all sufferers of stomach trouble and nervousness," said Mayor Freeburn in a signed statement. "I suffered greatly from my stomach for a long time. My stomach trouble was accompanied by nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite, indigestion, and a badly run-down condition."

"I had heard a good deal about Tanlac, so I bought a bottle to see what it would do for me. It really is the finest thing I ever tried. I feel splendid now. My stomach is giving me no trouble at all and my nerves have been quieted. Another thing I appreciate is the good sleep I am able to enjoy now. After I got to bed I sleep like a rock. Mrs. Freeburn has also taken Tanlac and says it is building up her system."

"Tanlac surely has my endorsement." Tanlac is now being specially introduced here by the Connelville Drug Co.

Tanlac can also be secured in Dunbar at D. C. Lason's Drug Store.

WHY YOU SHOULD NEVER PARE A CORN

If you are troubled with corns or callouses, do not run the risk of blood poisoning by paring them. Statistics show that many deaths have occurred from this seemingly innocent practice of paring corns.

Simply go to your druggist and get a few cents worth of Lee-Rite rub, a little on any painful corn or callous. Immediately the pain will disappear and in a short time the corn or callous will loosen and lift off easily with the finger—root and all—leaving the surrounding skin in a healthy, normal condition. This, together with the fact that Lee-Rite overcomes such afflictions as sore, tired, aching, puffed or burning feet and makes them cool, easy and comfortable is probably responsible for the heavy endorsement given it by druggists.

To rid one's feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes or painful calluses in such a pleasant and safe way, makes it seem the height of folly for anyone to pare a corn, and people are warned to stop it—Adv.

At the Theatres

THE PARAMOUNT.

"The Greater Law"—A five act Bluebird feature, starring Myrtle Gonzales and George Hernandez, and a two-act comedy are today's feature. In "The Greater Law," Miss Gonzales plays the part of Barbara Henderson, a young eastern girl, whose brother is left in her care by her dying mother. The boy is weak and soon falls into evil ways. He takes his portion of his mother's estate and goes to Alaska in search of gold. He is killed in a dance hall in a quarrel over a woman, and the hero of the story, played by George Hernandez, is implicated in the murder. When Barbara goes to find her brother, she is told of his death and the rumor as to how he was killed. She starts to hunt down the murderer and has a number of thrilling adventures, until she learns she has been following the wrong trail for an avenger, but the right one for a woman, whose heart has not led her astray. Tomorrow, Bessie Love will be seen in "The Sawdust Ring," a five part Triangle feature. A two-act comedy is also included in the bill.

SOISSON THEATRE.

In spite of the many counter attractions, the Soisson Theatre played to three large houses yesterday and the patrons were more than pleased with the big vaudeville show which was offered. The bill consists of six acts, and is the essence of variety. Fugling Miller is in a class by himself and performs many difficult and dexterous tricks. Ole Edvard, the pretty little dancer, was seen here the first of the week and repeats her former success. Jack Finn offers a number of songs displaying a pleasing voice. Bonner and La Croix have a "black face" specialty including singing, dancing and instrumental selections that was much enjoyed. La Yine and Jaffey in their pianologue and songs and dancing also scored a big hit with their audiences. The "Three Jolly Sailors" also held over from the first half, at the request of many patrons, again received much applause for their unusually fine harmony singing. James and Ferdinand are acrobats, performing some of the most sensational and daring feats which are seldom seen outside of the large circuses. This programme will be repeated for the balance of the week and to anyone enjoying a first class show in every particular, this opportunity should not be missed.

ORPHEUM THEATRE.

"THE MORALS OF MARCUS"—Featuring the charming star Marie Doro will not only serve to provide a pleasant evening, but creates one of the most wholesome memories possible to theatregoers. Miss Doro's gifted impersonation of Carthage, the refugee from the Turkish harem, is the nearest approach to hypnotism from the screen that one could imagine. She holds the audience spellbound under the witchery of her amazing art, grace and personality. "The Villain," a two reel Billy West comedy, will be shown today and tomorrow. "Tomorrow," in "Rags," the greatest story of a girl's rise from the lowest strata of life to a position of social importance that which she finds it possible to marry the man she loves, whom before she thought too far above her. Mary Pickford for whom the story was especially written, finds a typically effective characterization.

ROSE, EXPERT ON EXPORTS, TO ISSUE LICENSES UNDER NEW EMBARGO STATUTE

Stanley M. Rose of Philadelphia, who is an asphalt expert and who has been directed by the government to take charge of the New York branch office of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, is a man of great experience in the line of exports.

This office will be of special importance in the department work of licensing exports, under the new law, as most of the applications for licenses for exports in the New York district will be reviewed at the local office and certain classes of licenses will be issued there without consulting Washington.

Mr. Rose has had experience as manager of the New York office. Prior to his last appointment as commercial agent of the bureau he had had a large business experience in Europe, Australia, India and Egypt, and also had held many important posts with American and European firms engaged in foreign trade. During his last connection with the bureau Mr. Rose made an extended tour of the United States to tell manufacturers of foreign trade opportunities.

BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION BANISHED FOREVER

Prompt Relief—Quick, Permanent Cure.

The habit of taking strong purgatives such as Sels Blue, etc., should at once be ended, says authority, since they only afford temporary relief by forcing the bowels to move. Such drastic purgatives eventually prove injurious and are only justified in extreme cases owing to the tendency they create towards chronic constipation. Your bowels should move at least once every day without the use of such artificial stimulants.

If sufferers would only take a few doses of a purely herbal remedy that has now been placed on the market under the name of Lohman Herb Tablets they would soon secure in a very few days a permanent cure. These tablets act gently and firmly on both liver and kidneys and so strengthen the stomach and bowels that they can do their work without the aid of medicine. Get a small box today from your druggist and take tonight as directed. You will find your money if dissatisfied, so try it tonight at our expense. A. A. Clarke can supply you—Adv.

The Magnetic Girl

Strength, stamina, vigor, physical force, personal charm and magnetic influence are not to be found with weak, thin, anemic men and women but are attributes of people with an abundance of vitality and red blood. Doctors and specialists of late years dwell upon the importance of guarding against phosphorus and iron deficiency and attention is drawn to the great number of anaemias who could (with little effort and expense) join the ranks of healthy, magnetic men and women. Numerous notices have appeared in the press from time to time telling of the remarkable benefits to be derived from the regular use of an organic phosphorus and iron preparation known among druggists as Irophen. The properties in this preparation are so wonderful in their action upon the human system as to merit the unrestricted and unanimous praise of more than a score of the world's most celebrated specialists and are now rapidly gaining favor with American physicians. If you feel "worn-out" or "run-down," if you lack snap, stamina or physical force, if you have sleepless nights or are thin, nervous, anemic, and have that tired, listless feeling, get a supply of Irophen and note the daily increase in strength, vitality, endurance, nerve force and firm, healthy flesh. The formula is printed on every package, show it to your doctor and ask him if Irophen does not consist of the greatest strength and nerve tissue building properties known to medical science. It can be obtained from all first class druggists but any druggist who is out of stock can easily obtain Irophen for you from his wholesaler.—Adv.
